

Bringing Earth's Resources to Life

The Simplot Company's mission statement, bringing Earth's Resources to Life, embodies our reason for being in business. We mold many of our planet's raw materials into value-added items that sustain and enhance life.

In addition to understanding the ingredients of building a profitable business, we're keenly aware of our ecological responsibilities. Simplot continually addresses environmental matters, not only because we depend on the continued availability of natural resources for our livelihood, but also because good stewardship of air, land and water is the right thing to do.
