WORK STUDY ADVERTISEMENT: Job# 40396

Title: Ecology laboratory technician
ORGANIZATION: MSU Ecology
HRS/WEEK: 10
WAGE: $10/hour
START DATE: ASAP
END DATE: December 7th

SUPERVISOR: Will Glenny (PhD Student, Ecology)

DESCRIPTION: The work-study student will assist a PhD student in the Burkle lab (Ecology) in processing insect specimens collected in the Helena-Lewis & Clark National Forest. The majority of the work-study student’s responsibilities will include mounting insects and labels to pins for long-term specimen storage. Students must be able to commit at least 10 hours per week for consideration.

QUALIFICATIONS:

1.) ‘Certificate of Work Study Eligibility’
2.) Detailed sample preparation i.e., precise, attentive, and focused
3.) Conduct repetitive tasks for multiple hours at a time
4.) Receptive to constructive feedback
5.) Reliable, dependable, and communicative

APPLICATION PROCESS:

Send an email to willglenny@gmail.com with the subject line reading, “pollinator laboratory technician”. Within the main body of the email, please include a brief statement indicating why you are interested and qualified for this position, an updated resume, and evidence of work-study eligibility. Additionally, please provide an e-mail address and phone number of at least one previous work reference.