WHAT YOU CAN LEARN
Learn creative and effective ways to improve the quality of people’s lives through teaching.

Conduct research on methods to help athletes improve performance.

Help families develop quality relationships and healthy lifestyles.

Understand early childhood development in order to improve learning and nutrition.

EDUCATION STUDENTS OUTSCORED THEIR PEERS ON 14 OF 15 PRAXIS II EXAMS

RECENT STUDENT AWARDS
A graduate student in educational leadership received the Montana’s Presidential Award for Excellence in Math and Science Teaching.

A graduate student in sustainable foods received a prestigious Fulbright to study orange flesh sweet potato consumption in Mozambique.

Montana State’s Sustainable Foods & Bioenergy Systems program named ONE OF 10 BEST ENVIRONMENTAL PROGRAMS IN THE U.S. by Mother Nature Network

FOOD AND NUTRITION PROGRAM NAMED ONE OF 10 PROGRAMS TO WATCH by Allied Health World website

NAMED NO. 1 IN MONTANA FOR THE HIGHEST NUMBER OF GRADUATES IN EDUCATION AND TEACHING by Online College Database’s Shaping the Next Generation

10 UNDERGRADUATE MAJORS
Elementary Education
Secondary Education
Technology Education
Community Health
Early Childhood Education/Child Services
Family and Consumer Sciences
Food and Nutrition
Sustainable Food Systems
Health Enhancement K-12
Health and Human Performance

7 GRADUATE PROGRAMS
Adult & Higher Education
Curriculum & Instruction
Educational Leadership
Exercise & Nutrition Science
Food, Family & Community Health Sciences
Counseling
Family Financial Planning

CERTIFIED HEALTH EDUCATION SPECIALIST EXAM
100% PASS RATE

FALL 2013 FRESHMEN:
Average HS GPA
3.16
Average ACT score
24.2
Average SAT score
1634

COLLEGE GRANT ACTIVITY
$8.6 MILLION 2013–14

PARTNER WITH AMERICAN INDIAN COMMUNITY MEMBERS IN HEALTH RESEARCH

185 EDUCATION STUDENTS graduated to serve as teachers in Montana and beyond 2013–14

MSU’S 3RD LARGEST UNDERGRADUATE COLLEGE
Enrollment by department:
EDUCATION
994
HEALTH & HUMAN DEVELOPMENT
1,061

2013–14

2,055 TOTAL STUDENTS

32% 5-YEAR GROWTH

2013–14

10 STUDENT CLUBS

RECENT STUDENT AWARDS
A graduate student in educational leadership received the Montana’s Presidential Award for Excellence in Math and Science Teaching.

A graduate student in sustainable foods received a prestigious Fulbright to study orange flesh sweet potato consumption in Mozambique.

Montana State’s Sustainable Foods & Bioenergy Systems program named ONE OF 10 BEST ENVIRONMENTAL PROGRAMS IN THE U.S. by Mother Nature Network

FOOD AND NUTRITION PROGRAM NAMED ONE OF 10 PROGRAMS TO WATCH by Allied Health World website

NAMED NO. 1 IN MONTANA FOR THE HIGHEST NUMBER OF GRADUATES IN EDUCATION AND TEACHING by Online College Database’s Shaping the Next Generation

WHAT YOU CAN LEARN
Learn creative and effective ways to improve the quality of people’s lives through teaching.

Conduct research on methods to help athletes improve performance.

Help families develop quality relationships and healthy lifestyles.

Understand early childhood development in order to improve learning and nutrition.

EDUCATION STUDENTS OUTSCORED THEIR PEERS ON 14 OF 15 PRAXIS II EXAMS

RECENT STUDENT AWARDS
A graduate student in educational leadership received the Montana’s Presidential Award for Excellence in Math and Science Teaching.

A graduate student in sustainable foods received a prestigious Fulbright to study orange flesh sweet potato consumption in Mozambique.

Montana State’s Sustainable Foods & Bioenergy Systems program named ONE OF 10 BEST ENVIRONMENTAL PROGRAMS IN THE U.S. by Mother Nature Network

FOOD AND NUTRITION PROGRAM NAMED ONE OF 10 PROGRAMS TO WATCH by Allied Health World website

NAMED NO. 1 IN MONTANA FOR THE HIGHEST NUMBER OF GRADUATES IN EDUCATION AND TEACHING by Online College Database’s Shaping the Next Generation

WHAT YOU CAN LEARN
Learn creative and effective ways to improve the quality of people’s lives through teaching.

Conduct research on methods to help athletes improve performance.

Help families develop quality relationships and healthy lifestyles.

Understand early childhood development in order to improve learning and nutrition.