EHHD’s LAND GRANT MISSION
Integrating Research, Teaching, and Community Engagement Mini-Grant RFP
AY 2018-19

The College of Education, Health and Human Development will award $1,000-10,000 Integration Mini-Grants for faculty who seek to develop novel ways to integrate their teaching, research, and community engagement. The goal of these mini-grants is to advance the realization of EHHD’s Land Grant Mission by connecting research outcomes to community benefits or the advancement of teaching scholarship. The source of this funding is EHHD F&A returns from the VPrem.

Eligible: TT Faculty or team of faculty

The project lead should be a TT faculty member in EHHD, and teams can include other TT or NTT faculty, professional staff, or TT faculty from other colleges. Interdisciplinary teams are encouraged, as are partnerships among senior and junior faculty.

APPLICATION

Please submit a 2-4 page document (Word or pdf) with the following information:

1. PI and Team members (if applicable)
2. Project title
3. Description of the project and how it represents integration of scholarship.
