Financial $quirms

You want to buy a pop, but today pop has increased to $1.25. You only have 75 cents.

How would you get the money to get a pop?

-Jon Redland

Financial Squirms

You would like to buy a bike this month. Your father says that you need to come up with half the money by yourself and that is $45. However, you only recieve $25 month in allowance.

How would you come up with the difference?

-Aaron Blair

Financial $quirms

Your child wants a Playstation 2.

What can you do together with your child to accomplish this goal to purchase one?

-Peggy Aquino

