Board of Regents Policy
[BOR Policy Section 702.1 - Personnel]

Policy

1. Appointments to teaching, research, or other faculty positions at each campus of the Montana University System shall be identified tenurable or nontenurable. Tenurable appointments shall be either probationary or tenured.

2. Nontenurable appointments are for a specified term and expire automatically without notice at the end of the term unless renewed prior to expiration.

3. Appointments at less than full-time or joint appointments of two or more individuals to a single position may not be tenurable appointments.

4. Service in nontenurable appointments does not count towards probationary service for tenure.

5. An appointment not specifically identified as tenurable is a nontenurable appointment. A tenurable appointment not specifically identified as tenured is probationary.

Procedures:

1. Each campus may establish policies for nontenurable appointees regarding other faculty rights and responsibilities, including voting. Such policies may recognize different classes of nontenurable appointments (such as adjunct faculty, adjunct research faculty, visiting faculty, lecturer, etc.).

2. The contract or letter of employment for nontenurable appointees should specify the term of the appointment. In the event the term is not specified in the contract or letter, the term is considered to be the academic time division (quarter, semester, or summer session) during which employment first occurs.

3. If a campus wishes to offer an appointment to a continuing appointee of another campus, the joint appointment must be approved by the campus administration where the faculty member has his regular appointment.

210.00 Appointment to the Tenurable Faculty
Individuals are appointed to tenurable faculty positions at a specific rank which is awarded commensurate with their qualifications, responsibilities and privileges.

The tenurable appointment is that of probationary status. The appointee remains in probationary status until the appointment is terminated or tenured status is awarded. Unless an individual contract expressly provides to the contrary, the contract term for all tenurable appointees shall be the academic year. Regardless of the term of any individual contract, no such person has, or shall acquire, a right to reappointment for more than an academic year.

A terminal degree in an area appropriate to the discipline and demonstrated potential to carry out responsibilities for instruction, research, or creative activities relevant to the appointment are normally required for the appointment of tenurable faculty. Different degrees may be designated as "terminal" for different specialties within a discipline, as articulated in the department’s Role and Scope document. In exceptional circumstances, candidates that lack the terminal degree requirements articulated in a department’s Role and Scope document, but who are outstanding scholars of national or international repute with extraordinary experience and demonstrated potential to carry out responsibilities relevant to the appointment, may be appointed as tenurable faculty.

The rights and responsibilities of tenurable, research and emeritus faculty type are described in this MSU Faculty Handbook and the Montana Board of Regents Policy and Procedures Manual. University policies which apply to all university employees also apply to faculty.

A tenurable faculty member who is given an administrative appointment retains her or his academic title, rank, and capacity to advance in rank, and, if tenured, the right to return to her or his faculty position.

211.00 Rank and Title of Tenurable Faculty

The following are designated as the ranks of the faculty at Montana State University-Bozeman and are the only ranks associated with the process of earning tenure:

- Professor
- Associate Professor
- Assistant Professor

Tenurable Faculty may use a title which identifies their department or discipline such as Assistant Professor of Nursing, Associate Professor of Chemistry, or Professor of Landscape Architecture and is approved by their department head.

211.10 Probationary Appointments
The total time period of full-time service prior to the acquisition of continuous tenure shall normally not exceed seven academic years, which may include up to three years of full-time service in tenurable ranks at accredited, United States four-year institutions of higher education (or equivalent international institutions of higher education) if specified in the letter of hire.

At MSU, faculty must apply for tenure no later than their sixth year, unless extended under section XXXX; if the application is successful, tenure is awarded the following contract year. If the faculty member has been awarded credit for service at another institution, the credit for service will be applied as if served at MSU; the faculty member must apply for tenure no later than the sixth year of service, including the credited years. Exceptionally meritorious cases may be reviewed earlier than the sixth year and brought earlier to the Board of Regents if reviewed as specified in Section 212.00 and recommended by the provost and president. Time spent on authorized leave of absence from the campus will not count as probationary period service, unless the faculty member and the president or his or her designee agree to the contrary, in writing, at the time leave is granted. [See: BOR Policy 706.1 (B)]

211.20 Reappointment and Non-Reappointment of Probationary Faculty

(A) A tenurable appointee with probationary status (hereinafter referred to as a probationary appointee) has the right to serve the specified term of the appointment and may not be discharged without cause during that term.

(B) Reappointment of probationary appointees shall be at the discretion of the employer. Written notice of non-renewal of a probationary appointee shall be mailed or given by the president . . . or his or her designee by March 1 of the first year of service, by December 15 of the second year of service, and by June 30 prior to the final year of appointment in the third or later years of service. A decision not to renew a probationary appointee must be approved by the Provost and President.

(C) Failure to provide a probationary appointee with the required notice period shall not result in automatic reappointment or create any right for an additional term. The employer shall have the option of providing employment or severance pay in lieu of any portion or all of the notice to which the employee is entitled, so long as the extension of employment or severance pay is commensurate with the notice to which the employee is otherwise entitled. [See: BOR Policy 706.1 (C)].

212.00 Tenure Recommendation at Hire [from Interim Faculty Personnel Policies and will be reviewed by working group responsible for review of retention, tenure and promotion interim policies]

In extraordinarily meritorious cases, finalists for tenurable faculty positions or administrative positions who have received tenure at a comparable university will be eligible for an Expedited
Tenure Review. If the department head and dean agree that an Expedited Tenure Review is appropriate, the department head will forward the candidate’s job application materials to the Primary Review Parties to determine if, in both parties' judgment, the candidate would be recommended for tenure. If the Primary Review Parties determine the candidate will be recommended for tenure, the decision will be one of record upon hire. The recommendation will be forwarded to the Provost, who will make a recommendation to the President to hire the employee with tenure, subject to the approval of the Board of Regents.

The President’s recommendation will be forwarded to the Office of the Commissioner of Higher Education for consideration by the Board of Regents as soon as possible for inclusion on a Board agenda.

213.00 Letter of Hire/Faculty Role Statement

The letter of hire identifies the expectations of the faculty member's appointment and sets the initial Role Statement for the faculty member. A faculty member's role statement identifies the broad responsibilities he or she performs in furtherance of the mission of the department.

The University expects that a faculty member's role will evolve over time as the needs and goals of the department and the faculty member change. Role statements are based on the faculty member's initial letter of hire and may be revised with the written agreement of the department head, dean, and Provost, after negotiation with the faculty member. If the faculty member is dissatisfied with the change in role statement, he or she may appeal to the Dean or Director of the department.

The faculty member receives specific assignments for each contract term and is expected to perform the duties and responsibilities of the assignment. Annual reviews evaluate the faculty member's success in meeting the duties and assignments identified in the most recent of either the letter of hire or role statement.

300.00 Appointment to the Nontenurable Faculty

Individuals are appointed to nontenurable positions at a specific title which is awarded commensurate with their qualifications, responsibilities and privileges. Non-tenurable faculty who are members of the collective bargaining unit (non-research faculty appointed at .5 FTE or more) are subject to the terms and conditions of the CBA. A nontenurable faculty member's Letter of Appointment and the applicable CBA, BOR and university policies describe the University's contractual relation to the individual.

Individuals appointed to nontenurable faculty positions are not eligible for tenure. Time in nontenurable appointments does not count towards tenure. [See BOR Policy 702.1]

301.00 Rights and Privileges
Except as limited by this Handbook, Board of Regents Policy and Procedures Manual, the MSU Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual, other MSU policy manuals, and the terms of any individual contract, nontenurable appointments carry faculty and campus privileges that pertain to tenurable faculty. Departments and colleges may extend to nontenurable faculty the right to vote in departmental or college meetings, serve on committees, and vote on curricular matters.

302.00 Initial Determination of Title

The title of a nontenurable faculty appointee is determined at the time of hire and is dependent upon the experience and qualifications of the appointee. The duration of an Academic Year appointment is August 15 of one year through May 15 of the next year. However, because of the special needs of an academic department, a non-tenure track faculty member may be appointed to a multiple year contract consistent with the requirements of BOR Policy 711.3 and the NTT CBA.

304.00 Performance Evaluation

Faculty in nontenurable positions are to be evaluated in accordance with the NTT CBA if applicable or departmental evaluation procedures.

305.00 Advancement

A nontenurable faculty member who is reappointed from term to term may advance within titles in accordance with the NTT CBA, if applicable, or departmental policies and procedures. Advancement in title creates no additional right to reappointment from term to term.

306.00 Termination of Employment
Nontenurable faculty positions are subject to the availability of funds. In the event that funding is not available or is not sufficient to support the position, the appointment may be terminated before the expiration of the term of the appointment.

Nontenurable faculty appointments are for a specified term and expire automatically without notice at the end of the term unless renewed prior to expiration (see BOR Policy 702.1). There is no continuing right to reappointment to any nontenurable position, and reappointment is solely at the discretion of the University.

Initial assignment of title should be based on qualifications comparable to, and including research expectations, of tenurable faculty in the department. Normally, a Visiting faculty member will not serve in these appointments for more than three years. The following titles are used to appoint individuals who have academic credentials commensurate with the position or who have outstanding artistic or scholarly merit:

Time in nontenurable research appointments does not count toward tenure.

Nontenurable research faculty are appointed on letters of appointment; their appointment are subject to the availability of funds. If funding is not available or is not sufficient to support a position, the appointment may be terminated before the expiration of the term of the appointment.

Nontenurable research appointments are for a specified term and expire automatically without notice at the end of the term unless renewed prior to expiration. There is no continuing right to reappointment to any nontenurable research appointment and reappointment is solely at the discretion of the University.

320.10 Research Faculty Titles

The title of a research faculty member appointment is determined at the time of hire and is dependent upon the experience and qualifications of the appointee. Initial assignment of title should be based on qualifications comparable to the research criteria and standards expected of tenurable faculty in the department. In exceptional circumstances, outstanding scholar-researchers of national or international repute who lack the terminal degree may be appointed to these titles. However, in most cases, a terminal degree and research experience and responsibilities are minimum requirements for appointment to these titles.

The following titles are used for experienced researchers who have qualifications comparable to those expected of the tenurable ranks; the appointee is expected to make significant contributions to the research field:

- Research Professor
- Associate Research Professor
- Assistant Research Professor

In addition to their research responsibilities, research faculty may have educational and service responsibilities, including, but not limited to, supervising graduate students, serving on graduate student committees, teaching seminars and courses, and serving on departmental or college curriculum committees, provided these activities are in compliance with the regulations and restrictions of the agency funding their appointment. The time and effort spent on any educational or service activity cannot be charged to sponsored research that does not allow that specific educational or service activity as allowable costs. If the faculty member is not funded by a grant or contract which allows educational and service activities as allowable costs, the time and effort on any educational or service activity, if such activity is expected of the faculty member, may not be charged to a grant and must be supported by other funds.

320.20 Annual Evaluation
Research faculty appointees are to be evaluated annually in accordance with adopted evaluation procedures. Evaluation of research faculty should take into account their contributions to the research, educational, and service missions of the university.

320.30 Advancement
Individuals who are reappointed from term to term may advance within these titles in accordance with departmental policies and procedures which are comparable to the research criteria and standards for tenurable faculty. An individual’s advancement must be approved by the department, college dean, Provost, and Vice President for Research. Advancement in title creates no right to reappointment from term to term.
