- The final round will be an open performance for any audience members to attend.
- At the discretion of the judges, it is possible that no contestant be named a winner should none be deemed of sufficient quality.

The winner(s) of the competition will perform in concert with the MSU Symphony Orchestra.

Performance Date: Monday, April 15, 2019 at 7:30 p.m. in Reynolds Recital Hall.

ELIGIBILITY: Please Read Carefully

The Concerto & Aria Competition requires all vocal, woodwind, brass, percussion and string contestants to be registered/enrolled in one of the MSU “auditioned large ensembles” AND Applied Music Studio (private lessons) during the Fall 2018 AND Spring 2019 semesters. The term “auditioned large ensembles” constitutes the following ensembles: MSU Symphony Orchestra, MSU Wind Symphony, MSU Jazz Band and MSU Chorale. All pianists and guitarists auditioning must be music majors registered for applied music during the Fall 2018 AND Spring 2019 semesters OR be a non-major in a “large ensemble” AND Applied Music Studio during the Fall 2018 AND Spring 2019 semesters OR be a non-major accompanist for MSU music students AND in an Applied Music Studio during the Fall 2018 AND Spring 2019 semesters. Music education students that are student teaching during the spring semester may be exempt from the studio and ensemble participation requirement with approval of the studio teacher and Dr. Stewart.

REPERTOIRE:

- Each contestant must perform a movement from a concerto for instrumentalists or two arias for voice from the standard repertoire. If the instrumental concerto is short enough, multiple movements may be accepted at the discretion of Dr. Stewart and the studio faculty member. The selection length for the audition cannot exceed 10 minutes but must exceed 6 minutes. At 10 minutes after entering the stage, the contestant will be asked to leave regardless of whether or not they have completed their piece.
- Contestants may make cuts where appropriate to shorten their audition time. Contestants are encouraged to cut lengthy accompaniment introductions and interludes to maximize the time the judges hear their performance.
- Double and triple concertos are acceptable and encouraged.
- Memorization is required for winners in the final performance. Memorization is also required for vocalists in both rounds of the competition. Memorization is HIGHLY recommended for instrumentalists in both rounds of the competition.
- The audition application will either be approved or disapproved based on the feasibility of performing this work with the MSU Symphony Orchestra on the February or April concert taking into consideration the difficulty of accompaniment, rental material issues, orchestration, etc.
- If you are unsure of the availability of the orchestral accompaniment, check with your studio instructor and/or Dr. Stewart well before the application is due.
- The applicant must audition and perform with the piece listed on the application. This selection may not be changed after the application has been turned in.
