• Special Guest: John How, MSU Space Planning Director (Rescheduled for 5/10).
• PC Position Reports:
  - Amy Stix provided an update on University Council and the amendment of the University’s drug and alcohol policy to include “research drugs”. The council spoke at length regarding the potential centralization and renaming of MSU’s ITC to UIC.
• New Business:
  - 3/30 minutes were approved.
  - Update on staff scholarship award process: the “target date” to select candidates is the last week of April. The call for scholarship nominations yielded 34 applications in its first year of existence.
  - May professional development – Brain Rossmann is speaking with Dr. Rusty Barceló for a diversity-themed professional development. Dr. Barceló as expressed interested in working with the PC for a campus-wide professional development session.
  - April/May newsletter to go out the end of April; newsletter will likely include summarized feedback from the spring social.
  - The council discussed potentially meeting once over the summer, though it was agreed to hold the bimonthly meetings over the summer and resume regular meetings in September. The council will issue a brief call for new PC members. Jenny suggested doing so through the MSU Today announcement. The council suggested using MSU’s Qualtrics as a source to gather nominations.
• Old Business
  - The council discussed how to put out the call for new PC members: Brain Rossmann (Administration & Finance), Brian O’Connor (Academics) and Pol Llovet (Research) will have expired terms in May.
  - The council again discussed a potential “climate-survey” of MSU professionals in the coming year. The survey might take stock of; job satisfaction, third-party representation, pay and contracts. Currently, there are between 600-800 professional employees at MSU.
