

PSYX 490

Undergraduate Research

To request registration in PSYX 490, take this sheet to the instructor with whom you would like to work and discuss your plans and expectations.

Complete this form which serves as a "syllabus" or "contract," including the student and instructor signatures.

How to expedite this process:

1. Have a topic or area of study in mind before approaching the instructor. Try to pick a topic that you are familiar with or interested in, and that the faculty member is also interested in.
2. Discuss the proposed work with the instructor, and how many credits you want to earn. 490's may involve independent library research and a writing assignment in addition to laboratory research.
3. Discuss with the sponsoring faculty and adhere to all expectations outlined on this form.

Return the form either via email to psydept@montana.edu, in person in the Psychology main office (Traphagen Rm 325), or in the Peer Advising Center, Traphagen Rm 319.
