

TRiO

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES

TRiO Tuesday Times!

Team TRiO, Julian, Megkian and Elizabeth is looking for what's most relevant to you. Here's what we see on the horizon for the coming week—

TRiO Breakfast each Wednesday from 8:30 to 10:30 am!

Join Team TRiO for coffee and something to munch on

This casual drop-in time has no agenda. Ask questions, compare notes with other students, or just have something to get you for the day. The staff will be here, so come by. Enjoy coffee, tea and a light breakfast from 8:30 to 10:30.

We're in SUB Room 102.

FAFSA Deadline Is Approaching

March 1 is the FAFSA application deadline. If you file your FAFSA by February 25, it is sure to be processed on time.

There is a slight change in the FAFSA next year that you should be aware of. Traditionally, you use the prior year's tax information with which to file. This year, 2016, you will use income data from 2015. Next year, 2017, you will use the same data—2015. This detail may work in your favor if you didn't make much money in 2015. But, in the event that you made more in 2015 than you did in 2016, there is an appeal process that may help out. We will keep you informed and tell you more as it becomes an issue.

If you need help with completing the FAFSA, Julie Watson in Financial Aid can help. She can be reached at 406-994-2845.

Provost's Luncheon with Professor Mark Jutila

Join Provost Martha Potvin and Immunologist Mark Jutila for a delicious luncheon, interesting conversation and some social time with your fellow TRiO SSS students.

We will be offering door prizes with one person's name drawn for a very special prize.

If you haven't responded to the invitation, it's not too late. RSVP here.

TRIO SSS Open House, March 7th, 3 to 5:30 pm

TRiO Student Support Services is a national program and MSU is proud to have it. Every year around this time, programs are celebrated in their colleges and universities with a program. Ours will be an open house in our new offices in Reid Hall, Room 314-A. Enjoy beverages and snacks, bring your family or a friend and celebrate being part of the first MSU cohort.

We would like others at MSU to see the wonderful TRiO SSS students. Please send us a photo and either 1) a short quote or a saying this inspires you; or 2) an accomplishment of which you are proud.

Don't Forget — We have Colored Overlays and SmartPens!

These are learning tools that may be of help to you. Try them out, and see if they work, great for you. You have nothing to lose but a few minutes.

The Career Fair is Friday. If you attend, come downstairs to Room 102 and we will credit you with Champ Change. Here's some info

Frank Barkow, Renowned Architect Will Host a Talk to MSU TRiO SSS

Mr. Barkow will speak to TRiO SSS students on March 1st, from 3-5:30 pm in SUB Ballroom A, followed by a reception.

After graduating from MSU with a degree in Architecture, Mr. Barkow received his Master's degree at Harvard. He practices in Stuttgart, Germany, with his wife and business partner, Regine Leibinger. He is well known for industrial architecture, domestic and cultural projects using materials that are inherently related and interconnected. His work responds to advancing knowledge and technology to explore new materials and their applications.

Montana Outdoor Science School Has Summer Openings

MOSS is seeking passionate and knowledgeable summer instructors to join our [super] fun team of educators! Summer instructors implement safe, fun, and quality summer camp programs for youth entering kindergarten through fifth grade. Instructors are required to attend staff training June 13-17, with summer camps running June 20 -August 19. MOSS headquarters are based at the Bozeman Fish Technology Center, with camps traveling in and around the Gallatin Valley. Pay is based on experience and ranges from $11.00 to $12.50 per hour.
