1. Call to Order
2. Writing Requirements: Currently MSU has a writing requirement of only 1 writing course which a student can be exempted from if they come in with a high enough combination of scores including High School APs, ACTs, SATs, or MUSWAs. There is a concern that these students do not get any college writing course especially if they are in Math or Sciences. Discussion ensued about whether or not MSU should consider having 2 writing courses as a requirement as do many other universities. With a requirement of 2 then those students who exempt out of the first requirement will still have a college writing experience by taking the second requirement.
3. Responsible conduct of research. Should this be addressed in freshman course? No time to discuss.
4. Meeting Adjourned.
