1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. - Network and one-on-one discussions with senior officials from the following organizations:

US Commercial Service – Find the right markets for products and services; maximize business development efforts with customized matchmaking programs; and tap Federal Government support on international contracting opportunities.

US Small Business Administration - Office of International Trade – Learn how to use financial tools and solutions to expand and maximize international sales.

Montana Department of Commerce - Office of Trade & International Relation – Access grant funding to support international marketing and trade strategies

Montana Manufacturing Extension Center – Assistance in improvements in operational efficiency to free up capacity for increased sales, supply chain optimization for better forecasting and performance, product development and enhancement to meet new market requirements, quality and safety regulatory compliance such as CE marking, and development of export action plans through a disciplined process.

US Postal Service - Global Business - Learn how to access specialized mailing services to grow small package exports.

2:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. - Bureau of Industry and Security [BIS] – Office of Export Enforcement presentation “Securing America’s Trade”

In the post-9/11 world, the export control challenge is to enable global trade in U.S. goods and technologies, while keeping these items out of the hands of illicit end-users. BIS addresses this challenge through assisting exporters to comply with export control and anti-boycott requirements, preventing violations before they occur.

Meet with experts on solutions in international finance, commerce, logistics, and grants to expand overseas business

Hear from Bureau of Industry and Security – Office of Export Enforcement Special Agent Naomi Morrow on best practices on complying with the Export Administration Regulations
