The Alzheimer's Association's mission is to create a world without Alzheimer's Disease and other forms of dementia. Alzheimer's in the United States and beyond is a leading cause of death and growing public health crisis. One in three seniors will have some form of dementia at the end of their life. By educating our community about the impacts of dementia, and raising money for research and aid for those with the disease, we can get closer to finding a cure and helping out our community!
