

Indian Education for All:

A model for culturally responsive pedagogy in practice

This course is designed for educators in Montana and other states that have similar commitments to the teaching of historic and contemporary American Indian issues; students in MSU's Native American Studies graduate certificate program; and others who are interested in multicultural education.

NASX 591 • 3 Graduate Credits •
May 4–July 12, 2014

Instructor:

Jioanna Carjuzaa, Associate Professor of Education at Montana State University.

For course information:

Contact Dr. Jioanna Carjuzaa,
carjuzaa@montana.edu

Registration questions:

MSU Extended University,
(406) 994-6683,
toll free (866) 540-5660,
ContinuingEd@montana.edu

Register on-line at <http://eu.montana.edu/online/courses/>

Grant funding is available for K-12 teachers to take this course! Visit us online to see if you qualify

Explore the goals and evolution of Indian Education for All (IEFA) within a multicultural education framework, and discuss how educators are best prepared to implement this transformative educational policy. We will examine the historical, political and cultural forces that foster systematic disparities based on ascribed characteristics, and critically examine strategies for addressing such disparities. The course highlights Montana's constitutional commitment to the cultural heritages of American Indians, which exemplifies the practical application of multicultural education.

Instructor Dr. Jioanna Carjuzaa is an Associate Professor of Education at Montana State University-Bozeman. She holds a Ph.D. in Multicultural, Social and Bilingual Foundations of Education from the University of Colorado-Boulder. She has over 20 years teaching experience as a multicultural teacher educator, diversity trainer, and English for Academic Purposes (ESP-Business) instructor. At MSU she teaches multiple sections of Multicultural Education; in addition, she has offered graduate courses in Social Justice in Education, Indigenous Research Methodologies, American Indian Studies for Teachers, and Teaching EFL/ESL: Second Language Acquisition Theory and Language Teaching Methodologies. Jioanna is grateful to serve as the co-advisor to American Indian Council and has had the very enjoyable opportunity to team teach Indigenous Leadership and Powwow Fundraising and Leadership with Jim Burns numerous times. In addition, Jioanna serves as the facilitator for Indian Education for All professional development opportunities for MSU faculty, staff, and students.

MONTANA
STATE UNIVERSITY

EXTENDED
UNIVERSITY

<http://eu.montana.edu/credit>
(406) 994-6550 • (866) 540-5660 TOLL-FREE
ExtendedU@montana.edu