Calculating your GPAs

The Department of Education requires students to earn a minimum 2.75 GPA overall, in any teaching major, teaching minor, or option. Additionally, students must earn a minimum 2.75 GPA in their content coursework for any licensable area (teaching major or teaching minor).

Your overall GPA for MSU coursework is available at the top of your DegreeWorks record. You can find major, minor, and option GPAs in the corresponding section headers in DegreeWorks. However, since DegreeWorks does not include transfer credits in calculating GPAs, you will need to manually calculate the GPA for any major, minor, or option that includes graded transfer coursework. You can use the all-purpose GPA calculator on our website:

<http://www.montana.edu/education/documents/advising/gpacalculators/GPA%20Calculator.xlsx>.

You will also need to manually calculate your content GPA for each licensable area. You can find content GPA calculators at www.montana.edu/education/advising/GPAcalculators.html.
