- Schedule/Fairbook online 5/1,
- Interview Judging Day 8/8, Maroon5 concert that evening.
- Families will pay the full $20 per kid for exhibitor fee this year.
- Need Judges and Fair Clerks

Showcase-

- Went well, 15-18 kids participated, 4/5 kids were new to Showcase, they enjoyed it.
- Lauren and Ariel Peterson reported, need more interest,
- 4 kids qualified for Congress, Bailey Stott was Overall Senior.
- Discussed having Showcase late Feb early March
- Jordan Trupka offered to do photos next year
- Community Service project was making loom knitted hats for preemies

Communication Day-

- Was too late in the year ran into spring sports, discussed having Communication Day late March
- 32 kids participated
- Wendy said Skillathon practice support was best ever.
- The livestock judging workshop was a great addition to the day’s schedule. Some kids that came had never been introduced to Communication Day.
- Skelly Adkins reported that her judging experience was great, she learned a lot about different subjects.

Foundation: More $ was raised by selling the lamb last year than was given out in Scholarships, they asked Roni what else could they do to help- She mentioned covering Exhibitor Fee for Dept. N only kids.

Money would also be made available to kids in Dept. A that are only brining a few animals and that would not/might not make enough in premiums to recover the fee so might decide not to enter. We do not want kids to choose not to enter fair because the fee is a financial issue.

Workshops:

Shooting Sports- Shotgun is shooting in Huntley at the shooting range. Watch for calls and texts from unknown #'s, leaders may be trying to reach you.

Ceramics: Going strong

Cloverbud Camp: Planning going strong, schedule went out is on 6/21/22 at the 4-H Building

If you have fair entry questions call the 4-H office, not Connie at the Metra
