Hello Fellow Graduate Students,

We are all individuals with unique experiences, skills, needs, and career goals. As such, the same advice will not work for everyone. An interpersonal development plan (IDP) is designed to help you create a career plan that is the right fit for you. MyIDP is a web-based tool designed with science careers in mind, but includes valuable self-assessments that can be used in a general sense for non-scientists.

Please join us on Friday, April 7 from 3:00 – 4:30 pm in the Innovative Learning Studio on the first floor of Renne Library. I'll lead you in an IDP workshop aimed at helping you create a plan that will help you attain the career goals that are in line with your individual needs and values.

RSPVs for the IDP workshop are encouraged. Click here to register.

Sincerely,

Anna Zelaya
Ph.D. candidate, Microbiology & Immunology

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

April 7: Open Writing Time at the Writing Center

Time: 9:00-11:30 am

Location: Wilson 1-114

Join the Writing Center for open writing time. Erin, their graduate and English as a Second Language (ESL) specialist, will be available to help with work at any stage of the writing process.

April 7: First Fridays, What is your game plan?

Time: 3:00 -4:30 pm

Location: Innovative Learning Studio, first floor of Renne Library

Facilitator: Anna Zelaya, Ph.D. candidate, Microbiology & Immunology

Identify values, set goals, and work towards a meaningful and successful career.

This interactive workshop will walk you through the process of creating a personalized individual development plan (IDP), which will help you set goals to pursue the career path that best fits your needs and values.

The Graduate School will provide popcorn and beverages.
