

Noah Andersen

Junior in Mechanical Engineering

Named to 2016-2017 Academic All-District VII Men's At-Large First Team and on National Ballot for Academic All-American

Academic All-District VII Men's At-Large First-Team

Montana State University- Bozeman Nordic skier Noah Andersen has been named to the 2016-2017 Academic All-District VII Men's At-Large First-Team, the College Sports Information Directors of America Announced May 12th.

His name will now appear on the national ballot for Academic All-American consideration, the nation's top academic honor for college athletes.

The junior from Bozeman helped guide the Bobcats to a sixth –place finish at the 2017 NCAA Skiing Championships. He took 29th in the 20K freestyle and 38th in the 10K classic at the NCAA Championships. On the RMISA circuit, Andersen finished 26th in Qualifying Points, which Included a Season-best 12th in Classic at the MSU Invitational. At the RISA/NCAA West Regional championships, Andersen too 16th in the 10K classic. He is also a three-time USCSCA National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team honoree.

To qualify for academic All-District honors, a student athlete must have a 3.20 or higher cumulative grade-point average, be of sophomore academic standing and have made a contribution during the 2016-2017 season. Andersen has a 3.96 cumulative GPA in Mechanical Engineering.